4. IT and Sponsorship Report – Edwina - Oceania Sport IT program support discussion	A busy year for those sports participating at the London Olympics. Congratulations to the sports who had athletes competing. Reference Page 140 ONOC/OSFO annual report Our focus continues to be how we can assist sports to build their capacity, because with strong and vibrant sporting associations and a large playing base, improved performances will follow. At our last assembly we had some productive discussion and workshops centred on this theme and OSFO is grateful to OSEP's Millie and her team for facilitating an excellent few days. There were many collaborative outcomes and goals adopted and this year we hope to implement and build on those by sharing our recent successes and setting some new goals as we plan for the next four years of development. Thanks to the Australian Sports Commission for their contribution and we are delighted to hear that the Pacific Sports

Partnerships pro	aram is	beina	extended.

Obviously funding continues to be our greatest challenge and we therefore need to explore new ways of obtaining it. This year we have engaged Kylie Bates, ex Australian Sports Commission, to help us prepare a plan that embraces "Sport for Development" as a key feature of all of our sport federation work in the Pacific. OSFO will take a lead role in promoting and executing this plan and will be looking to individual sports with experience for their advice and support. Using sport as a development tool is certainly on the Australian government's radar as they seek ways to address the noncommunicable diseases issue that is gripping all Pacific nations including Australia and New Zealand. Sport and the active lifestyle it promotes can be part of the solution and if we all work together it is possible to really make an impact.

Communication must continue to be an important part of all our work because without promoting what we do, no one will know or think to invest in sport. We have spent some time getting the member content up to date on the OSFO website and we urge all our members to send through updates so that we can keep our content vibrant and relevant. To raise our profile both within and beyond Oceania we would like to produce a quarterly newsletter and bring back the ever-popular, The Coconut Wireless and will be seeking content from all the region's key sport stakeholder groups.

THE REPORTERS' ACADEMY PARTNERSHIP

The success story for 2012 was definitely the relationship that was built with The Reporters' Academy (TRA). As outlined in last year's report there were many things that this group were going to do to support the promotion of sport in the region in the lead up to, during and post the Olympics. The young people from both Manchester and Melbourne, who gave freely of their time, are to be congratulated for the professional content that was created. It was the most comprehensive coverage of any Olympics to date and TRA look forward to improving on this in future games

FOCUS FOR 2013

TRA hopes to extend the program into several Pacific Islands. As an extension of the MOU established out of the North West partnership, OSEP will work with TRA to support this part of the building of communications capacity within our NOCs and sports federations. These young people will be encouraged to work as volunteers, specifically to promote the work of the organisations.

A small delegation has attended the ONOC assembly for the book launch and to speak with NOCs about the possibility of introducing a group locally. It will provide a meaningful link with schools and education departments who, it is hoped, will become engaged in the project and sport generally.

At the Pacific Mini Games in September we will be aiming to take a small group to support the PGC and their 8 sports. We are currently seeking project funding and have approached Rotary International. We would like each PGA to support at least one junior reporter who would come to Wallis as part of their delegation. In Wallis they would work as part of the games media team and get some further training in the field.

At the end of the year the Oceania Football Federation is running its second Youth and Sport Development Conference in New Caledonia. We hope to take a team to this event, which will boast 1,000 delegates from 25 countries. We have offered to run a media workshop throughout the week

	How will partnerships work?
	<ul> <li>ASC will partner with Australian NSOs and RFs</li> </ul>
	This is to ensure:
	ASC meets due diligence requirements
	<ul> <li>Respects structures of international sports</li> </ul>
	NSOs/ RFs will then develop arrangements with NFs to support
	PSP activities
	NFs report to NSOs/RFs

	The ASC has a role to play in supporting the coordination of interaction between sports and development partners
	Interacting with ASOP Country Programs
	<ul> <li>ASOP Country Programs (CPs) operate in 7 countries: Fiji, Kiribati,</li> </ul>
	Nauru, Samoa, Solomon Islands, Tonga and Vanuatu.
	In these countries, complementing the work of the CPs is to be the first priority of PSP development activity.
	Generally the CPs objectives align with the PSP objectives – in some cases they are broader/ narrower.
	The ASC will support applicants to target their proposals to complement the CPs.
	In cases where there aren't CPs, or there are development opportunities in line with PSP objectives outside CPs, the ASC will manage interaction between sports and development partners to ensure a coordinated approach. Application Process
	<ul> <li>2 step process</li> <li>5-6 weeks for each step</li> </ul>

10. Regional Performance Review	The matter of Regional Olympic solidarity funding allocations to Ifs has been put on hold until after the ONOC Assembly and election of new Executive. Action: CG to follow up and confirm timeframe of review and the process for allocation of funds to Ifs in the region.
11. OSFO Executive resolutions	Resolution # 1: - OSFO confirms its support for the principle of Olympic Games Qualification through an Oceania Continental Qualification process in all sports and we seek the support of ONOC and its constituent NOC's for this initiative. Carried

	Resolution # 3: OSFO supports a Multi-sport Games in the Continent of Oceania which includes all Oceania nations , and which can act as a pathway to higher level competition. We seek the support of ONOC and its constituent NOC's for this initiative. Carried
	Resolution # 4: - OSFO confirms its desire to employ a fulltime administrator/development officer charged with working with ONOC, the PGC, their respective members and other stakeholders in the delivery of sport in Oceania. Carried <ul> <li>Resolution # 5: The members of OSFO believe OSFO can play an important co-ordination and administration role in the delivery of the Australian Government's Pacific Sports Partnership Program and seek the engagement of the Australian Sports Commission in helping this happen (materialise/eventuate).</li> <li>5.1 OSFO and its member regional and national federations would like the ASC to consider using OSFO in an administration and coordination role in the delivery of the PSP program. The aim is to improve efficiency and avoid duplication.</li> </ul>
	Resolution #6: OSFO endorses and supports the role of team sports in the multi-sport festivals nationally, at the continental and global level. OSFO acknowledges that participation in team sports brings sporting, social, cultural and health benefits to the participants and to society. Team sports generate a unique spectator and media appeal within multi-sport festivals. We seek the support of ONOC, its constituent NOC's, the Pacific Games Council, its members Games Associations and the governments of the region for the preservation of team sports within these games and targeted assistance to allow participation within the games of teams from their countries. Carried
	Resolution #7: OSFO confirms its belief that a collaborative approach to sports delivery and development is the best way to utilise the limited resources of all stakeholders in the region. We commit to working in a collaborative manner with ONOC, PGC, the Australian and other Governments, the South Pacific Forum, and the Secretariat of Pacific Community the other governments of the region and other stakeholders to provide sports participation and competition programs for the peoples of the Pacific.

	Resolution #8: Recognising that many OSFO members operate on a modest budget and conscious of the need to ensure funding is targeted at sports programs rather than administration, we expresses our disappointment about the late advice provided to members regarding a conference participation levy. Members would appreciate earlier advise of likely costs when venues for future meetings are decided. Carried
	Resolution # 9 : OSFO and our members endorse the Healthy Islands Through Sport (HITS) initiative and believe as the controlling bodies for sports in the region we can make contributions to the framing and delivery of these programs. We request engagement of AUSAid with OSFO, ONOC and the PGC to discuss the program delivery and how we as collaboration may be able to assist with the regional strategy and national implementation. Carried
	<ul> <li>Resolutions #10: OSFO/ONOC partnership: OSFO would like to work with ONOC and its member NOCs to develop a rationalization of sport development in Oceania based on a review of NOC sport priorities for the next quadrennial.</li> <li>10.1 OSFO would like to work with OSEP and the PGC to develop an online resource or toolkit targeting National Federation capacity building. OSFO would seek feedback from NOCs on their most pressing needs, which may be discovered as part of "running the RAT" or by direct surveying. Carried</li> </ul>
	Resolution #11: OSFO would like to unite with the PYASC and ONOC's athlete's commission to develop a Pacific Youth Sports Network. This group would work collaboratively on providing educational and career development opportunities. The Youth Sports Network would seek additional partners (for example Rotary to collaborate on community service activities) to augment funding and build a human resource succession plan for sports organisations. This group would assist in the planning of future PYASCs. Carried
	Resolution #12: OSFO to take a collaborative approach towards meeting with the ONOC Executive to review recent athlete performances at the Olympic games with the focus on how to improve regional performances, establish achievable targets and programs and engage all stakeholders in the process.
